WILLIMANTIC YOUNG MAN

Charged With Stealing Watch from His Aunt—Arrested at New London.
 John Cosgrove, a Willimantic man, was arrested for the theft of a watch in New London on Thursday morning. Cosgrove went to New London and tried to sell a gold watch to Morris Goldberg. He notified the police and Officer White took Cosgrove into custody.

He admitted that he came from Willimantic, so the police of that city were notified and they investigated the matter and learned that Cosgrove had stolen the watch from his aunt, Ellen Reilly, but she didn't want to appear against him. He was held for trial in the police court and the case went over to Monday next. Cosgrove could not furnish a bond of $250, so he went to jail. The watch is valued at $20.

The court had disposed of this case and was considering other matters when Cosgrove awoke. "Did you read my case yet?" he asked. Mr. Hankey informed him that it had been continued. Previous to this Cosgrove had denied stealing the watch, but he said: "Well, I want to know how a theft in Windham county can be brought up in New London county. That's what I want to know of you." The remark was addressed to Judge Colt, who informed Cosgrove that law would be given an opportunity to make inquiries Monday.

Cosgrove was persistent. He made several remarks which came perilous by near to being within the scope of contempt of court. Judge Colt warned him that he would send him to jail for something else if he did not keep still and then asked Lieutenant Jeffers to take Cosgrove down stairs. Cosgrove went, still mumbling. He went to jail in default of bond.

WEDDINGS.

Bailey-Monroe.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Monroe, No. 562 Main street, there was a pretty wedding Thursday evening at 7 o'clock when their daughter, Faith Avonia, became the wife of Casper Kirkner Bailey, the ceremony being impressively performed by Rev. P. C. Welch, pastor of the Central Baptist church, which the bride attended. The bride chorus from Lohengrin was played by Miss Mabel Murray as the bridal couple entered, unattended, and the guests present numbered about 35, these being only immediate relatives and a few intimate friends.

The becoming gown of the bride was white embroidered net over white silk and she carried bride roses. Her going away gown was of navy blue chiffon broadcloth, tailor made, with a black hat with feathers. A reception followed the ceremony, when congratulations and best wishes were extended to the bridal couple. A buffet lunch was served, and there was music during the evening, the guests remaining to see the newly married couple off on the boat train in the evening trip. Upon their return they will reside in a newly furnished cottage at No. 562 1-2 Main street.

Among a number of beautiful gifts from their many local and out-of-town friends were cut glass, silver, pictures and furniture, including also a beautiful cut glass creamer and sugar bowl. The young woman is the daughter of a growing livery and teaming business, No. 371 Main street. The hearty best wishes of a large circle of friends will be with the newly married couple.

Sheffield-Chappell.

Miss Edith Marie Chappell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Chappell, and Washington Kyle Sheffield, both of New London, were married on Thursday. The wedding ceremony was simple and was held at the most immediate relatives in attendance but the wedding breakfast and reception which followed at the bride's home was the social event of the season.

The wedding ceremony was performed at 11.30 a. m. in the chapel in the convent of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church by Rev. David H. O'Donnell, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church. There were about a dozen at the ceremony. Lucius Tracy Sheffield, elder brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the bridemaid was Miss Helen Ferguson of Falmouth and Pittsburg.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white satin with tulle veil and duchesse lace. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The maid of honor wore a gown of blue chiffon with garlands of pink roses. Her hat was of blue chiffon with pink roses. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at the Chappell residence, corner of Huntington and Federal streets. Evans of Boston catered. There were about 150 guests at the breakfast and reception which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield left in the afternoon for their wedding trip, leaving New York today for a two months' trip abroad. They will reside in New London on their return. Present friends of town at the wedding were Alderman and Mrs. Govever of Ely of this city, A. H. Chappell, Jr., of Pomfret, G. S. Chappell of New York and Miss Simpson of Washington.

Johnson-Miles.

On Monday Orrin H. Johnson of Danvers, formerly of this city, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving D. Johnson, and Miss Edith Miles of Danvers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miles, came to this city and were united in marriage by Rev. Jerome Greer, pastor of the Norwich Town Methodist Episcopal church. The groom is a painter.

Fair and Rally.

The rally and fair at the Mt. Calvary Baptist church had a large attendance on Thursday evening and the financial returns were correspondingly encouraging. Supper was served by the Society of Zion Travelers.

Prepare for Winter Before It Arrives

Few people realize that their comfort in cold weather depends largely upon the condition of their blood.

If you have plenty of rich, pure blood, cold weather will have no terrors for you; in fact it will do you good.

But if your blood is thin and poor and insufficient in quantity then you are going to "feel the cold" keenly and also be in danger of contracting some of the serious ailments prevalent in winter—pneumonia, bronchitis, pleurisy or lung troubles.

SMITH'S EMULSION COD LIVER WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES enriches and increases the quantity of blood, makes NEW blood, and will do more than anything else to fortify your system against the rigors of winter. Try it.

Automobile Accident Near Tannery

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Donohue of Baltic Injured when Car Went Over Embankment After Striking Peddler's Wagon—Mrs. Donohue Received Scalp Wound, Concussion of the Brain and Dislocated Shoulder.

M. H. Donohue, owner and manager of the Baltic cotton mill, Mrs. Donohue and their two children had a remarkably narrow escape from death, Thursday evening, when their automobile, in which they were proceeding homeward from the city, crashed through the wooden fence at the tannery of the Norwich Belt company, on upper North Main street, and plunged off the wall, the front of the machine landing ten feet below in a nearly upright position.

All four occupants were thrown out and lay huddled together in the narrow space between the tannery and the wall. Mr. Donohue escaped with a few cuts and a blackened eye, but it was seen that Mrs. Donohue was severely injured and she was taken to the Backus hospital, where it was found that her injuries were not critical. The children were unharmed, and went home on the 9 o'clock electric.

The accident happened a few minutes after 8 o'clock. Mr. Donohue was at the wheel and was going up North Main street at moderate speed. At the bend at the tannery Mr. Donohue saw a team coming down on his side of the street, and blew his horn. The driver of the wagon seemed to pay no attention and stayed on the same side of the street. Mr. Donohue then turned his car to the left and at the same time the driver turned his horse to that side of the road. To the surprise of Mr. Donohue, the horse struck to the right again, but he struck and knocked down the horse. For some reason the steering gear of the machine failed to work properly and the car went straight for the fence. This gave way and the car plunged down into the space between the wall and the tannery. The front of the automobile hit the wall, broke the building and broke a window. The rear remained in the air, jutting about a foot above the wall. The car was inclined at an angle of 45 degrees or greater.

SAILED FOR CALIFORNIA

OVER FIFTY YEARS AGO.

Many of the Passengers of the Tresscott Were from Norwich—Started Business in "Frisco."

Captain George Warren of Putnam has a copy of the Norwich Evening Courier of January 25, 1849, in which there is a column story regarding the sailing of the ship Tresscott for California with a list of the men from this section who went. There were the following from Norwich: William Faulkner, J. I. Deveney, Joseph S. Brown, Robert Colt, George Warren, G. W. Carpenter, John Prentice, John Prentice, Jr., Oliver Sherman, Andrew W. Whitaker, George L. Faulkner, Harlan Hocking, George A. Marble, William A. Wilkins, William A. Northrop, Albert H. Hakes, William J. Humphrey, cabin boy, G. L. Prentice, F. William Prentice, before the mast.

The account says: The ship Tresscott sailed from Mystic Wednesday morning, Jan. 24, for California. Of the passengers a crowd of large men were from Norwich. Many who go from Norwich do so with the intention of engaging in business in San Francisco, or at some other point which shall seem more eligible for their purpose.

Mr. Devotion, who understands takes out an adventure in drugs, and proposes to open a drug store in San Francisco, and was ready to leave for the city. Mr. Faulkner takes out a printing press, types, etc., with the view to publishing a newspaper at San Francisco. His two sons and an apprentice had of some 14 years of experience him to "stick type," we presume.

Mrs. Devotion, Warren and Faulkner carry out a house or store already framed and all necessary material for finishing it off immediately upon arrival in San Francisco. The building office is to be in the upper story, of course, while the drugs and groceries take possession of the premises below.

Among those who go from Norwich we have all are young men without families except Mr. John Prentice and Mr. William Faulkner. Of the 14 men before the mast not one of them, we are told, appeared to be more than 20 years old, while a number were considerably less.

The Tresscott sailed with the purpose of not touching at any port until they had doubled Cape Horn. It is hardly probable that the long voyage of 17,000 miles will be completed in less than from six to eight months.

There are but very few if any of these Norwich men living today, it is believed. Captain Warren writes that about 30 years ago George Mowse Warren wrote to his father, ex-Sheriff George Warren, stating that he was then in Nevada and in the mines. He wrote that he had sold his mining interests and was ready to come home, but he never came, and no trace of him has been found. George H. Warren was an uncle of Captain Warren, a brother of Horace Warren, who years ago conducted a wholesale store in Water street with a man named Whitaker, who later became president of the New London Northern.

PROGRESS ON SHEA BUILDING.

Brick Foundation and Cellar Partitions Have Been Built—Other Building Operations.

Rapid progress has been made in the past few days upon the new Shea block now erecting on Main street near the postoffice. The brick foundation and cellar partitions have been built, and the building will be rising above the ground. The Shea block is a four-story building, and the brick side wall next to the Robinson property built up nearly to the second story. At the site where the Universalist church formerly was and the Chelsea Savings bank's new building is to be the foundation wall on the bluff street side is all that the work is now on the wall at the back end of the lot. Here some careful bracing has to be done to keep the bank and wall on the stone mason from sliding down on the Shea block.

At the new Academy building the stonework which finishes off the two wings is about all laid, and from now on the work will be in the roof and above the wings. Several sections of the two columns over the front entrance have been put together.

FUNERAL.

Mrs. John A. Tibbitts.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lydia Dennis Tibbitts, widow of John A. Tibbitts, formerly of New London, were held Wednesday at her late home in Middletown, N. J., where her death occurred Monday. The body was brought to New London, arriving on Thursday afternoon at 4.05 o'clock, and was interred in the Green cemetery, where services were conducted by Rev. Judson Arnold, rector of St. James' Episcopal church. The bearers were Dr. Edward Prentiss, C. Royce Ross of New London and Mrs. H. and Edward H. Tibbitts of Norwich.

IF IT DISAPPEARS IT'S ECZEMA

How to Tell Whether a Skin Affection Is an Inherited Blood Disease or Not.

Sometimes it is hard to determine whether a skin affection is a sign of a blood disorder or simply a form of eczema. Even physicians are often puzzled in their diagnosis. The best way for any one afflicted is to go to Lee & Osgood's and Smith's drug store in Norwich. Larue's in Putnam, Woodward's in Danielson and Chasebro's in Willimantic or any good druggist who handles pure drugs and obtain 50 cents' worth of psolam. Apply this, and if the itching stops at once and the trouble is cured in a few days it may be set down as having been eczema, as this is the way psolam acts in the worst cases of eczema, and in curing acne, herpes, blotches, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, barber's and other forms of itch, scalp, and all surface skin affections.

Any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 42 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, can secure, by mail free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overgrown with pimples in twenty-four hours.

Boston at 4.50 o'clock tonight. The ascent was made at 2.58 and the distance covered was about 25 miles.

"THE JOLLY BACHELORS"

Brought Out by Lew Fields at New Haven Hyperion.

New Haven, Oct. 28.—The new musical comedy, "The Jolly Bachelors," was brought out by Lew Fields at the Hyperion theater tonight, prior to its New York production. In scenic equipment, electrical effects and costuming the piece is the most elaborate seen here in a long time. The musical score abounds in solos and duets and the orchestration includes a number of ensembles, and the story is woven around the efforts of four bachelors to tell the truth. There are two acts with seven scenes. The introductory scene is a travesty in music and dancing on class day at Yale. Among those who took part are Al Beach, Joe Welch, Robert Bailey, John F. Kelley, S. Benley, Walter Percival, Bonfield Taylor, Emma Marcus, Stella Mayhew, Josie Sailer and many others well known in musical comedy. The piece was well received.
